

348830 - If someone goes astray because of his defiantly disobeying his parents and their praying against him, can he ever be guided?

the question

Can we counteract the prayers of parents against their son? There is a young man who was committed to praying in the mosque, even Fajr, and he would constantly read Qur'an, but Allah, may He be exalted, willed that he should anger his parents, so they prayed against him by invoking Allah's curse against him. After that, this young man went astray to the extent that he stopped praying and he does not like to remember Allah, may He be exalted. Then he angered his father a second time, so his father prayed that he be cursed again. And that happened a third time, and a fourth and a fifth. The father does not intend to pray against him, but because of his extreme anger he cursed him, because the father has a habit of saying such a supplication. Can we counteract this supplication by means of any righteous deeds? Please note that he was one of the most perfect of young men, but now he has become useless, to the extent that there is the real fear that he may become a disbeliever, because he no longer has anything left to connect him to Islam.

Detailed answer

Praise be to Allah.

The door of repentance is always open to a person, so long as he is still alive and the sun has not yet risen from its place of setting.

It was narrated that Abu Hurayrah said: The Messenger of Allah (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) said: "Whoever repents before the sun rises from its place of setting, Allah will accept

Islam Question & Answer

General Supervisor:
Shaykh Muhammad Saalih al-Munajjid

his repentance.” Narrated by Muslim (2703).

It was narrated from Ibn ‘Umar that the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) said: “Allah will accept the repentance of a person so long as the death rattle has not yet reached his throat.” Narrated by at-Tirmidhi (3537); he said: this is a hasan ghareeb hadith.

Allah, may He be exalted, accepts repentance from all sins.

Allah, may He be exalted, says (interpretation of the meaning): “Say, ‘O My servants who have transgressed against themselves [by sinning], do not despair of the mercy of Allah. Indeed, Allah forgives all sins. Indeed, it is He who is the Forgiving, the Merciful” [az-Zumar 39:53].

It was narrated from Abu Moosa, that the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) said: “Allah holds out His hand at night to accept the repentance of those who have sinned during the day, and He holds out His hand by day to accept the repentance of those who have sinned at night – until the sun rises from its place of setting.”

Hence it is not permissible to lose hope and despair of a person repenting.

As Allah, may He be exalted, says (interpretation of the meaning): “Indeed, no one despairs of relief from Allah except the disbelieving people” [Yoosuf 12:87] and “He said, ‘And who despairs of the mercy of his Lord except for those astray?’” [al-Hijr 15:56].

Despairing of the mercy of Allah, may He be exalted, is a major sin.

It was narrated from Fadaalah ibn ‘Ubayd, from the Messenger of Allah (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) that he said: “There are three about whom you should not ask: a man who disputed with Allah regarding His cloak, for His cloak is pride and His garment is might; a man who has doubts about Allah’s decree; and the one who despairs of the mercy of Allah.” Narrated by Imam Ahmad (39/368); classed as saheeh by the commentators on al-Musnad; also classed as

Islam Question & Answer

General Supervisor:

Shaykh Muhammad Saalih al-Munajjid

saheeh by al-Albaani in Silsilat al-Ahaadeeth as-Saheehah (2/81).

It was narrated from Ibn Mas'ood that he said: The gravest of major sins are: Associating others with Allah, feeling safe from the plan of Allah, despairing of the mercy of Allah, and despairing of relief from Allah. Narrated by at-Tabaraani in al-Mu'jam al-Kabeer (9/171); classed as saheeh by al-Albaani in Silsilat al-Ahaadeeth as-Saheehah (5/79).

Hence it is good for you to call this person to repent, strive hard to advise him sincerely, and show kindness to him by offering supplication for him.

Allah, may He be exalted, says (interpretation of the meaning): “And your Lord says, ‘Call upon Me; I will respond to you’” [Ghaafir 40:60] and “And ask Allah of His bounty. Indeed Allah is ever, of all things, Knowing” [an-Nisa’ 4:32].

Allah, may He be glorified and exalted, may decree wretchedness for a person because of a supplication, and He may relieve him of that because of a supplication.

For more information on praying against one’s children and the prohibition on that, please see the answer to questions no. 90178 and 220800.

What the people around this young man must do is be gentle and kind in calling him to come back to the path of guidance, and look for ways to exhort him, such as gentle words, good companions who will help him to do good and remind him of it, reciting verses of the Qur’an and quoting some hadiths of the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) that encourage people to turn back to Allah and repent to Him.

You should also exhort his parents and warn them of the danger of that; tell them that Islamic teachings forbid cursing a believer, for the believer is not given to cursing and slander; and tell them that cursing a believer is like killing him, as was soundly narrated from the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him).

Islam Question & Answer

General Supervisor:

Shaykh Muhammad Saalih al-Munajjid

If cursing a believer is a major sin, even if that believer is a sinner, and it is not permissible to curse a specific sinner among the believers, then how about if that specific person is the child of the one who utters the curse?

For more information about cursing a believer, please see the answers to questions no. 83390 , 175428 and 175428 .

And Allah knows best.