

126941 - Do the angels attend women's dhikr circles if the women are bare-headed?

the question

Is it true that the angels do not attend women's dhikr circles if the women have their hair uncovered (i.e., they are not wearing hijab)?

Detailed answer

Praise be to Allah.

I do not know of any basis for that. They may recite Qur'an and remember Allah, may He be glorified and exalted, even if they are bare-headed, if there is no non-mahram man present with them. That does not prevent the angels from coming in. And Allah is the source of strength. End quote.
